Meet Jesse

OWNER

I prefer to work with people who are passionate about what they do and seek to leave their mark on this world. My clients come to me because they're tired of the old-school accountant process and see the innovative and personalized approach I bring to my work.

I am an Alabama native who never left the southeast states until traveling and working internationally for two years in my mid 20s. I have worked in both public and private accounting, entertainment, construction, travel, and as a F/X analyst in England for the world's biggest asset management company.

I was later given an opportunity to move to California, where I began a new life on the west coast. I enjoy the outdoors, traveling, sports, yoga, and helping others with finances & mental health. I work hard to provide excellent service and look forward to working with you.
